The race track is in excellent condition and will be better still by fair time.

Now is the time that fairs are talked about—World's Fair, State Fair, District Fair and Senator Fair.

Harry Gorham of Gold Hill was in Carson yesterday. He reports a lively interest in the District Fair.

Colonel W. O. Mills, a nephew of D. O. Mills, died at the Cortez mine Thursday. He was an old resident of Eureka.

Let Bill Nye mix you a Centennial at the Arlington. He only makes them every one hundredth year, and this is his year.

Prisoner Sullivan played sick in the county jail yesterday and the Sheriff prescribed a bread and water diet for a weak stomach.

Superintendent Yerington offers a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of the miscreants who caused the wreck in Virginia city.

Berkeley is to vote on a proposition to issue $50,000 in bonds for the improvement of its public schools. That is setting a good example for Carson.

Judge James Cleveland of Ohio, a brother of John P. is a guest of Senator Williams of Empire. The gentleman will spend several weeks in Nevada.

M. L. Warner, an old pioneer who passed through Eagle Valley in 1844, is in Carson. He is now Justice of the Peace in Pilot Hill, Eldorado county, California.

Last evening, at Armory Hall, a pleasant social dance was tendered Miss Irene Billings who is soon to depart for Carlin to take charge of the public school. A most enjoyable time was had.

The new pavilion will be lighted by three electric lights, and the numerous windows admitting light during the day will make it the best lighted hall in the State.

California contains the highest and lowest points of land in the United States. Mt. Whitney is 15,000 feet above and portion of the Colorado desert 264 below the ocean level.

The Pratt divorce case which is now shocking the Sacramento people, is a dear lesson, and shows the system employed by alleged friends to wreck the family of an acquaintance, as Bromwell, the intimate friend of the Pratt family did.

Vags, hobos, bums, deadbeats, thieves and sure thing men are warned to keep away from Carson during Fair week. The jail has many vacant cells in it and the officers will be able to provide lodgings for the characters mentioned.

A large crowd of eight seers and curious people gather every night at the brick yard to look into the burning kiln. You look through a hole formed by pulling out a loose brick, and about the hottest fire you ever beheld meets your gaze. It is a grand and beautiful sight, and well worth the short walk to the yard at the entrance to the Fair grounds.

The Sacramento jail is full of hobos, petty larceny thieves and pick pockets. The California State Fair is in progress and the police are making it very warm for criminals. There will doubtless be a crowd of hobos, thieves and sure thing men at the State Fair at Reno and the District Fair in Carson. The officers should be ready to give them a proper reception.

Sickness Among Children.

DISTRIBUTED FREE.

A Vegetable Wagon Smashed and the Contents Scattered.

Nobody knows just where it started from, but it had all the appearance of being in close communication with the sky when it passed M. Cohn's corner.

When it struck the mound of the new sewer system on Main street there was a noticeable commotion among the vegetables, which seemed desirous of getting out at that point.

Up went the concern toward the footbills, but managed to make a couple of turns till it hit a lamp-post and awning support at Chedle's corner. This is the point at which the excitement among the green goods was uppermost.

Crack went the king bolt, the harness snapped, up tilted the wagon as it poised itself in the warm summer atmosphere, and then smote the sidewalk with an assortment of garden truck never before thrown open to the critical eye of an admiring public.

In all directions flew parsnips, turnips, early rose potatoes, beets and Moscow onions (sold by M. D. Ferry, the seedman, an old advertiser in the APPEAL).

Along the street crossing three luscious watermelons were visibly affected and shed tears, as their delicious centers gushed open and exposed their ruddy interior department to a herd of small boys who had gathered near the wreck.

A basket of tomatoes spread their bloom of youth over a Washoe Indian sitting on the corner admiring the Government building, and mixed in with his rainbow colored blanket, like the last rays of Old Sol taking a leading part in a Deigo sunrise.

As the ladies passed by, expressions of deep sorrow and feminine sympathy were heard.

To the right stood the inconsolable proprietor himself. His face wore a doe-be-joyless look of sorrow; all his dreams of wealth were dashed to earth, his quivering chin betokened the pent up remorse concealed in his heaving bosom, but the dull light of recognition and momentary happiness flashed across his sallow physiognomy as he spotted a sack of egg plant that had withstood the fearful shock. Gathering his goods and chattels to his arms and figuring of his losses on his lean, dank fingers, he breathed a few carefully assorted words into space and made no other sign.

The crowd turned his wagon over and piled the debris in regardless of its condition.

All this time the horse was taking in the town, but was finally caught by Matt Brannan and returned in better condition than the wagon.

Chedle's corner was considerably shaken up, and as the horses passed the Criterion, Lyman Frisbie poked his billiard ball head out and remarked: "Look here, this is no Criterion to go by." Here Chedle dropped the price of watermelons down another notch.

Not Satisfied.

Carson ball players do not feel satisfied with the purse offered by the State Fair Directors for a series of ball games. They think $150 too small a sum to play for. The boys say $50 a game will hardly pay their expenses to Reno and return. The District Fair Directors should offer a good sum to be played for by two teams made up from Carson, Virginia, Hawthorne and Candelaria players. If such a thing is done great interest would doubtless be taken and a large crowd on hand to see the game.

Death of Mrs. Egan.

The Ladies Meet.

About half of the ladies appointed by the Directors of the Agricultural Association met at the residence of Mrs. Governor Colecord yesterday afternoon by request of Mrs. Colecord, who acted as temporary Chairman. The lady declined the permanent position, as she is still suffering from the effects of her fall last Sunday. Mrs. F. McCullough was unanimously elected President, Mrs. Evan Williams Vice President and Miss Annie Martin Secretary. After appointing a Committee to wait upon the Directors for instructions it was decided to extend an invitation to all ladies interested in making a successful display at the new Pavilion to meet at Mrs. Colecord's residence on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

The Fish Law.

Fish Commissioner Mills has compiled the fish law in pamphlet and card form for distribution throughout the State. Each angler should secure one and post himself in the method of protection adopted. The fishermen of Pyramid lake are averse to keeping the law and R. Cowles proposes to test it shortly. He claims that as a Government trader he is not liable under laws of the State of Nevada. Perhaps it is a good idea for him to test the law that he may come to a definite conclusion in regard to State Laws.

There is no Secret

About your buying shoes to advantage. You may not know any more about the quality of leather than you do about a lost comet but that is no reason why you should be "stuck." Either you get your money's worth or you don't and if you don't it is your own fault. We are in the shoe business because we happen to know something about shoes and leather. It is "bread and butter" to us, therefore we make it a STUDY. Of the knowledge you get as much benefit as though you possessed it yourself for we place it entirely at your disposal and if you think that other houses can quote lower prices than we do, come and look at the goods and prices. We will put our time against yours and we feel confident that the result will be a mutual benefit.
